Finances are a means to an end.

If you have no purpose for money, then you won't do anything purposeful with it.

While CPAs have traditionally been your most trusted advisors, in the last century the focus was frequently on the past—merely presenting you with “the numbers”. The CPA of the 21st century understands the factors and dynamics that create those “numbers”. More importantly, he can advise you about the actions to take to create future, sustained prosperity.

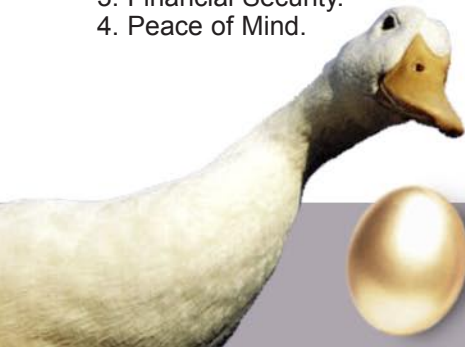

Today's accountant not only can show you what to do with your “golden eggs” but how to nurture the goose that lays them.

Wealth is NOT the whole story. You want it so that you can enjoy the things in your life that are really important to you. As your most trusted financial advisor I have two jobs:

1. To help you bring your values, purposes and dreams into clear focus.
2. To create with you a roadmap to get you there.

The necessary sequence is:

1. Clarity of purpose and goals.
2. Practical, personalized steps to achieve your dreams.
3. Financial Security.
4. Peace of Mind.
